SECRETARY’S MESSAGE

Department of Corrections Colleagues,

One of the reasons I was excited to join Governor Evers’ Administration and the Wisconsin Department of Corrections (DOC), was because I strongly believe that investing in individuals who have the capacity for positive change is always the right thing to do. Individuals do not lose their value or human dignity just because they committed an offense. And, when we help folks do better, communities, families, and businesses thrive.

The Fiscal Year 2020 Reentry Business Plan reflects these values and serves as a North Star for the approximately 10,000 DOC staff throughout Wisconsin. The Plan captures the evidence-based activities that are occurring in all of our divisions to help individuals successfully reenter society. It also illustrates our commitment to regularly evaluating our work to ensure we are consistently meeting the unique and changing needs of the people in our care.

No matter your position in the DOC, I encourage you to read The Reentry Plan, which is found on the Reentry section of MyDOC, as well as on our WIDOC Public Website. The objectives highlighted in the Executive Summary, as well as others outlined in the broader plan, will no doubt lead to more individuals successfully reintegrating and ultimately reducing recidivism.

Each of us has a tremendous responsibility to each other, our communities, and the individuals we serve. I want to thank all of the DOC staff for their continued dedication to serving the people of Wisconsin.

Sincerely,

Kevin A. Carr

REENTRY’S VISION

EVIDENCE-BASED PRACTICE

Implementing evidence-based practices is a priority for the Department of Corrections. The principles of evidence-based practice meet the community’s needs in terms of quality, efficiency, and effectiveness. Research demonstrates that these principles will result in increased public safety through improved client outcomes, while holding the individuals in our care accountable. Accordingly, all staff, from those in Food Service to Correctional Officers, from Probation/Parole Agents to Social Workers, from Wardens to Regional Chiefs, and all others who are part of the corrections team share a common approach and commitment to enhancing public safety through evidence-based practices.
ELEMENTS OF REENTRY

The Department’s Reentry Business Plan brings together a number of initiatives within the Department, each with a common goal of reducing the likelihood of future criminal behavior by individuals in our care convicted of crimes who are supervised by WIDOC staff. These initiatives share a common philosophy and approach to risk reduction among the juvenile and adult served by WIDOC. These are characterized by the following elements:

- Transition begins at intake to any WIDOC Division, when a comprehensive case plan is developed for moderate and high-risk individuals that addresses the criminal risk factors that, if addressed effectively, will enhance the likelihood of successful integration in the community and reduce recidivism.

- Staff hold individuals in our care accountable by providing both positive and corrective responses to client behavior, by serving as prosocial role models, affirming prosocial behavior, and teaching prosocial skills and by addressing in firm, fair, and appropriate ways antisocial attitudes, beliefs, and behaviors.

- Individuals in our care are prepared for community living through specific interventions related to their case plan, such as work, education, and focused treatment programs and release planning.

- Individuals in our care have the opportunity to develop healthy relationships with their family and children, when appropriate, in order to build prosocial community support and break the intergenerational cycle of crime.

- Transition from incarceration to community is carefully planned collaboratively by both institution and community corrections staff, coordinated with inmates and community stakeholders, and developed in full consideration of the concerns of victims.

- Supervision in the community, consistent with the corrections case plan and these principles, is key to reducing recidivism for those released from prison and those placed on community supervision.

- Programs and services provided to individuals in our care are outcome, research, and evidence-based.

- Staff support and reflect the Department’s values in all aspects of their work.

- Performance measures will provide Department management, employees, and stakeholders with an objective assessment of the extent to which the strategies contained within the Reentry Business Plan are effectively implemented.
NIC'S EIGHT PRINCIPLES OF EFFECTIVE INTERVENTION
CRIMINOGENIC NEEDS

Recent research has demonstrated that certain types of correctional programs are shown to be more effective in reducing recidivism. In predicting recidivism, there are a number of static factors to include age and criminal history that cannot change. Treatment and programs can address other factors that influence values, attitudes and actions. These areas which have been shown to be associated with recidivism and can be changed are called criminogenic needs.

Top Four Criminogenic Needs are highlighted in the table below

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Reentry Executive Team has identified objectives in the Reentry Business Plan for completion in FY2020. The first Reentry Business Plan was published by the Wisconsin Department of Corrections (WIDOC) in 2008 and since has been used as a tool to guide the Department and reassess our strategies towards accomplishing our mission annually. The dynamic evolution of this plan clearly indicates WIDOC’s commitment to using this roadmap for achieving excellence in correctional programming. The plan was initially envisioned as a five year plan and has now extended beyond this timeframe to provide clear direction for reentry priorities and initiatives. Some tasks require the completion of others before the next sequential step can commence, whereas, others require the creation of a process for activities that will become ongoing. This FY2020 Spotlight outlines some key objectives to be accomplished during this fiscal year.

CONCLUSION

The Wisconsin Department of Corrections strives to increase public safety, as measured by reduced recidivism, through the implementation of the strategies included in the Reentry Business Plan. To be successful in achieving these results, the Department has defined a set of specific goals, objectives, and tasks designed to ensure our public safety goals are realized. In addition to defining the strategies the Department intends to implement in order to meet these goals, and the methods that will guide evaluation of the Department’s success in achieving them, this plan will also assist all staff within the department to understand the change strategies underway and each individual staff person’s role in supporting the agency’s vision, mission and goals. The Reentry Executive Team will regularly evaluate the extent to which the goals, objectives, tasks and timelines within the plan are being met, and take action to address performance gaps that may be identified through their assessment. The plan will be regularly updated to reflect the Department’s progress in achieving these change strategies; emerging research on client success and risk reduction; and the needs of the agency and our state and local communities. Finally, an appendix has been added to track completed Reentry Business Plan objectives and tasks.
