INTRODUCTION

Welcome to the Wisconsin Correctional Center System (WCCS). Our goal is to provide a safe and secure environment with programs and activities to assist in your reentry to the community.

You have been placed in minimum custody and are one step closer to returning to your community. You are expected to be an active participant in case planning and programming, which begins upon your arrival at FCC.

You will be held accountable for the decisions you make. FCC staff are here to help you learn and comply with rules. They will redirect your behavior to ensure compliance with rules and to promote public safety.

Your past decisions have impacted many lives and have created many obligations and liabilities for you. You have a personal responsibility to victims and to the community for the crimes that you have committed. It is expected that you practice good decision-making skills while at FCC and upon your release into the community. You are expected to respect yourself and those in authority, as well as other Persons In Our Care and their property. You are expected to work hard.

It is your responsibility to read and be familiar with the contents of this handbook. Contact staff if you need help reading or understanding these rules. Additional rules and information will be posted throughout the center. You will be charged $5.00 if you damage or lose this handbook.

You are required to follow orders given to you by staff. If you disagree, you may request to discuss the issue following the identified chain of command located in this handbook or you may file an PERSONS IN OUR CARE complaint using form DOC-400. There is zero tolerance for profanity and aggression toward individuals with whom you come in contact.

Our programs and activities are designed to prepare you for reentry to the community as a responsible and productive citizen. You will find the staff to be experienced and sincerely interested in your progress. Do not hesitate to ask them for help with your issues or concerns. You are encouraged to use the opportunities provided so that your community reentry is safe and successful.

The Earned Release Program (ERP) gives Persons In Our Care the chance to learn more about themselves, their thoughts, feelings, and behaviors. Persons In Our Care will learn about themselves by talking about themselves, listening to others, and using the information provided by staff. By doing this, Persons In Our Care will actively work on personal development and self-awareness.

You begin program immediately upon arrival at FCC. New arrivals are considered to be in Phase I of program. Phase II is for those actively involved in intense programming and Phase III is for those who have successfully completed program and are awaiting release.

Through group interaction Persons In Our Care can get an idea of how they see themselves and others, how others see them and the consequences they face for various kinds of behaviors. During the entire time Persons In Our Care are in program, they will have a chance to learn how to deal with life problems in a more rational constructive manner - without alcohol, drugs, and violent or criminal behavior.

Progress in group will be measured by PERSONS IN OUR CARE participation, behavior (both in and out of group) homework, program / security evaluations, work assignments, participation and behavior in any off-grounds activities. In addition, all Persons In Our Care will actively work to incorporate self-awareness by holding themselves and others accountable.

It is expected that all Persons In Our Care will follow the FCC Handbook and ERP agreement until released or transferred from FCC.

Phase I – All Persons In Our Care will be in Phase I upon arrival at FCC. Persons In Our Care will remain in this phase until they start group with an assigned Social Worker or Treatment Specialist. In this phase Persons In Our Care are expected to structure their time with work and appropriate activities. Further, it is expected during this phase that Persons In Our Care participate in ancillary groups that have been identified on their respective treatment plans, prior to involvement in core curriculum. Persons In Our Care will be monitored for their work performance, behavior, willingness, and motivation to engage appropriately at FCC.

Phase II – Persons In Our Care will be in this phase the day they start core curriculum, where they will be involved in full-time program curriculums to include but not limited to Thinking for a Change (T4C), Cognitive Behavioral Intervention for Substance Abuse Adult (CBI-SUA) and/or other programs as assigned/designated. Persons In Our Care may also participate in other treatment interventions/programming that address specified treatment needs specific to an individual PERSONS IN OUR CARE. Phase II is the more intense therapeutic programming, where Persons In Our Care are expected to structure their time throughout the day, including evenings. Persons In Our Care in this phase still participate in work assignments, coordinated around their programming.

Phase III – Persons In Our Care will be placed in this phase after successfully graduating from Phase II of the program. During Phase III, Persons In Our Care will concentrate on their release plans and preparing the details of their return to the community and their ongoing participation in community services and work assignments. Persons In Our Care will be expected to demonstrate their behavioral skills learned, act as a mentor and assist other Persons In Our Care in Phase I or Phase II, as needed. Additional activities may be assigned by staff as warranted.

Incentives: When Persons In Our Care arrive at FCC, they will have the opportunity to start earning incentive points for positive, pro-social behavior. There is an incentive store/list that identifies all the incentives available that can be earned through incentive points. Designated center staff will keep a log of these points and provide an opportunity to turn them in for different rewards.

Sanctions: In addition to being rewarded for pro-social behavior, Persons In Our Care can also be sanctioned for anti-social behavior. These program sanctions range in severity to coincide with the infraction. While serving a sanction, Persons In Our Care become ineligible to use incentive points and forfeit their current incentive redemption request. Program sanctions are used in lieu of Administrative Code Chapter DOC 303. Some behaviors cannot be duly addressed with program sanctions; therefore, the DOC 303 may be utilized separately or in conjunction with program sanctions.

Group confidentiality means: what is said in group stays in group. All Persons In Our Care are expected to treat one another with respect, striving to effectively communicate with one another and staff. Persons In Our Care are expected to act as adults and work out differences as responsible adults. Disruptive, disrespectful, threatening behaviors will not be tolerated and these along with breaches of group confidentiality may result in program termination.

All Persons In Our Care must complete an Authorization for Use and Disclosure of Protected Health Information (DOC-1163A) upon arrival, generally during orientation week to identify persons (next of kin, family members, etc.) whom staff at FCC can release information to if contacted by them and or staff needs to initiate contact. You are required to bring your emergency contact information with you to the comprehensive orientation.

Programs offered at FCC include but are not limited to the following:

CORE PROGRAMS

Cognitive Behavioral Interventions for Substance Abuse Adult

Cognitive Behavioral Interventions for Substance Abuse Adult (CBI-SUA) is a curriculum designed for individuals who have a need in the area of substance use. The University of Cincinnati Corrections Institute developed this curriculum. The program relies on a cognitive-behavioral approach to teach participates strategies for avoiding substance use. This program places heavy emphasis on skill-building activities to assist with cognitive, social, emotional, and coping skills development.

T4C - Thinking for a Change

National Institute of Corrections developed Thinking for a Change (T4C). This program combines cognitive restructuring theory with cognitive skills theory to create an innovative and integrated curriculum designed to help individuals in the juvenile and adult justice systems take control of their lives by taking control of their thinking. The three components of Thinking for a Change are: cognitive self-change, social skills, and problem-solving skills. Cognitive self-change teaches individuals a concrete process for self-reflection aimed at uncovering antisocial thoughts, feelings, attitudes, and beliefs. Social skills instruction prepares group members to engage in pro-social interactions based on self-understanding and consideration of the impact of their actions on others. Problem solving skills integrates the two previous interventions to provide group members with an explicit step-by-step process for addressing challenging and stressful real-life situations.

Ancillary Programs

Pre-Treatment

Pre-Treatment Orientation sessions are designed to introduce participants to the basic program tools. Orientation will focus on decisional balance tool, introduction to cognitive-behavioral model, thinking reports, listening skills, feedback skills, and goal identification. These sessions serve to motivate participants in the program goals.

Cognitive Behavioral Interventions for Employment

The employment curriculum focuses on six main components. A brief introduction will be given on skills for employee success, along with motivating the participants on their employment path. The group will identify job lead resources and opportunities for employment. The participants will be able to identify their employment strengths. Participants will learn how to apply for a job by filling out job applications, creating resumes, understand and identify appropriate references and develop cover letters. The group will also focus on keys to successful interviewing and mock interviews will be conducted. Finally, participants will learn ways to retain employment.

Social Skills and Anger Control Training

The Anger Control Training program is designed to serve two related purposes:

1. Make the arousal of anger in chronically aggressive persons a less frequent occurrence.
2. Develop the means to learn self-control when anger is aroused. In essence, Anger Control Training teaches individuals what they should not do in problematic situations (be aggressive) and provides an alternative option (anger control techniques).

High Risk Offenders

The Epictetus Self-Mastery Program helps offenders break free of criminal thinking. The program focuses on the teaching of Greek philosopher Epictetus. The program helps to understand criminal behavior with a cognitive-behavioral approach, including the use of “practical philosophy”. The program teaches the ABC’s of inner boxing and the Ten Rounds to Self-Mastery. The program will address sense of purpose, “knocking out” excuses, turning adversity to benefit, converting entitlement to gratitude, seeing problems from another angle, counterpunching negative thoughts, handling provocation, and many other lessons to help live a better life inside or outside of prison.

General Social Skills

Skill streaming employs a four-part approach where the group members will observe modeling, participate in role-play, give and receive performance feedback, and apply generalization—to learn essential pro-social skills. The program will teach a wide variety of pro-social skills which can be utilized in various situations. Skill streaming teaches procedures, refines skills, and works towards managing behavior problems.

PRISON RAPE ELIMINATION ACT (PREA)

You have the right to be safe from sexual abuse, sexual harassment and report-related retaliation.

The Wisconsin Department of Corrections (DOC) values safety – that includes keeping you safe from others while you are serving your sentence.

The DOC has zero tolerance for sexual abuse and sexual harassment within its facilities.

Sexual abuse and sexual harassment among Persons In Our Care and among staff and Persons In Our Care in confinement is against the law. Violators will be disciplined and may be referred to outside law enforcement for prosecution.

The Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA) was signed into law in 2003 after unanimous support from Congress and years of pressure from advocates and survivors. PREA extends far beyond the elimination of rape in prison; it is the first federal law to support preventing, detecting and responding to sexual abuse and sexual harassment in all confinement settings.

In response, the Wisconsin Department of Corrections put policies and procedures in place to help keep you safe and to make it possible for you to get help if you've been sexually abused, sexually harassed or experience report-related retaliation. DOC is committed to investigating all reports, offering support to all victims and pursuing discipline for all perpetrators.

Wisconsin Statute § 940.225(2)(h), Administrative Code Chapter DOC 303 and DOC Executive Directive 72 reflect this commitment.

To report any of the above activities, Persons In Our Care may notify any staff person in person or in writing; dial 777 (internal reporting hotline); dial 888 or 999 (external reporting hotline); submit a grievance; tell a family member, friend or support person (they may report on your behalf); call local law enforcement. An PERSONS IN OUR CARE pin number is not needed when dialing 777, 888 or 999.

Please refer to your PREA handbook and postings in the center for more detailed information about sexual abuse, sexual harassment and reporting. If you have lost or misplaced your PREA handbook please request a new one.

REENTRY

Promote public safety and offender success from admission to custody through reentry and supervision in the community.

The public is best served if you are not only held accountable for your actions, but also have the opportunity to become a law abiding and successful member of the community when released. The goals of reentry are crime reduction, fewer new crime victims, reduced state and local criminal justice costs, and safer families and communities. To accomplish these goals, reentry programs at the centers are made available to you for participation, such as, but not limited to pre-release curriculum modules, obtaining an ID and vital documents, establishing portfolios, parole planning, and JobNet searching.

The Department's reentry initiative means that we engage offenders, as early as possible and challenge them, motivate them, and encourage them to change. Effective offender reentry also includes quality risk assessment and strong supervision practices proportionate to the level of risk to the public safety. We also focus on key factors that help offenders succeed and become law abiding citizens-including employment, alcohol and drug treatment, housing, and positive support from families and organizations.

WORK RELEASE

The primary goal of the Wisconsin Correctional Center System is to prepare you for release to the community. The objective for centers with work release is to help you obtain employment that will allow you to develop and demonstrate good work habits, pay your obligations, and save money for release. A monitoring period is required prior to obtaining approval for work release as well as any other requirements according to DAI 324.00.01 Work and Study Release policy. This allows us to monitor your work habits and make an evaluation when placing you on work release. Remember, work release is a privilege. Amongst other criteria, the center staff evaluate your risk for placement in the community by considering the following: your offense history, risk assessment, conduct history, length of sentence, and victim concerns. Other factors, such as the local job market, your individual work skills, and your willingness to work, also play a vital role in your placement on work release.

WORK RELEASE AGREEMENT:

To participate in work release the work release coordinator will require you to sign the following:

1. A DOC-372 Work Release Agreement form to indicate your agreement with the rules, regulations and provisions listed.
2. A DOC-371 Offender's Statement of Financial Obligations form.

WORK RELEASE GUIDELINES:

1. You must have a community custody classification to be eligible for work release.
2. The Superintendent must grant final approval for participation unless your case requires Warden approval.

3. You may not terminate your employment (quit your job), without the prior approval of the Work Release Sergeant.
4. You must sign and obey all work rules of the employer.
5. Being approved for the work release program does not guarantee you a work release job.
6. To the degree possible, the Work Release Sergeant will attempt to match your skills to available jobs.
7. The Work Release Sergeant will assist you in arranging job interviews; you may not make appointments without the consent of the Work Release Sergeant.
8. Going off grounds for interviews is subject to center staff and transportation availability
9. You must sign in and out whenever leaving for or returning from work.

REQUIRED IDENTIFICATION FOR WORK:

Two forms of identification are required by federal law and may include the following:
