

Felony Hold Reimbursement

County Code List

Alphabetical Violation Code List

Numerical Violation Code List

.01 AUTHORITY

Wisconsin Statutes 302.33\(2\)\(a\) and \(b\)

.02 GENERAL STATEMENT

Under this statute, the Department may only reimburse a county for custody which meets both the following criteria:

- Felons;
- For behavior which violates the terms and conditions of supervision, but the behavior does not otherwise constitute a criminal offense.

.03 PROCEDURE

When a client is on supervision for both a felony and a misdemeanor, the Unit Supervisor will code the Order to Detain (DOC-212) as a Felon (F).

The behavior of the probation and parole violator must be described on the DOC-212 so that the Unit Supervisor may make a decision on reimbursement and proper coding. Supervisors may not make decisions on whether a hold is payable unless the specific behavior which violates the terms and conditions of supervision is described by the agent.

The time period for calculating how much a county may be reimbursed is the state fiscal year (July 1 to June 30).

Care must be exercised when a client is moved between jails in different counties, particularly if regional lines are crossed. All counties which are entitled to reimbursement under the statute must be recorded in the Automated Holds Database. There are occasions when a client on a hold is detained in one county jail and moved to another county jail. In order to transfer the hold, the transfer button on the DOC-212 should be selected to cancel the hold for the current county jail and to create a new order to detain for the receiving county jail.

.04 DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND FAMILY SERVICES CLIENTS

NGI Cases: Detention days incurred by an client who is Not Guilty by Reason of Mental Illness or Disease (NGI) under §971.17 Wis. Stats. (conditional release) or §51.37(9) Wis. Stats. (conditional transfer), are not payable under the Felony Hold Reimbursement Program. These clients are not probationers or parolees. However, the Division still wants to maintain data on NGI detention days. While different forms are used to initiate a detention for an NGI, a DOC-212 and DOC-213 should be used for data entry purposes. The Supervisor should indicate the county code as 98 for NGI, enter "no" for not payable, and code the behavior.

Sexual Predator Cases (Chapter 980): Sexual predator cases generally are not reimbursable under the Felony Holds Reimbursement Program. The exception is if the case involves both probation or parole and 980 status, and the intent is to revoke only the probation or parole status. In this case, the criteria that apply under .02 and .03 of this section would take precedence.

.05 REIMBURSABLE BEHAVIORS

Violations which are reimbursable under the Felony Hold Reimbursement Program are listed in codes 1000 or higher. The codes for the above-listed reimbursable violations are highlighted for easy identification in the attached lists.

.06 NON-REIMBURSABLE BEHAVIORS

Reimbursements to counties will not be made where criminal behavior resulted in jail confinement of anyone under probation or parole supervision. Criminal charges do not have to be filed. All codes of 0001 through 0999 are criminal behaviors.

NOTE: Code 0732, Criminal Drug Possession, Personal Use, is not reimbursable

.07 SPECIAL DETERMINATIONS

ECRM > Supervision > Division of Community Corrections – Supervision > Supervision Process > Violations > Felony Hold Reimbursement

Many of these situations suggest disorderly conduct, enticement for immoral purposes, other criminal conduct or contributing, which are not reimbursable. Confinements resulting from violation of halfway house rules, or other community-based program rules, must be described in behavioral terms in the final paragraph of the DOC-212. As examples, the agent must list "curfew violation," "left program without permission," or "positive urinalysis screen." Listing "halfway house violation" on the 212 is not sufficient.

Custody days incurred by parolees who were incarcerated in prison because of the repeater statute for misdemeanor convictions are not eligible for reimbursement under the Felony Hold Reimbursement Program.
